I object to the proposed plans.

The inner city centre is no place for a depot to be placed. It will bring increased heavy traffic in a highly residential area. At a time when Dublin has implemented many measures to reduce the traffic going into the city, the proposed plan does not make a cohesive plan.

Dublin 8 is a residential area with many complex needs. Social needs are high and the support required for the many built up social housing areas is evident.

A community green space, as outlined by the campaign Sporting Liberties would provide huge benefits to the community. There is the potential to use this space to knit together this community. With 50,000 people living in the community and rising, it is very disappointing not to have adequate sporting facilities. The epidemic of mental health issues faced by the community can be addressed and supported through a sporting complex on this site.
