As a resident of Dublin 8, I am deeply concerned about the proposed variation to the Dublin City Development Plan 2016 - 2022 for developments on Marrowbone Lane.

My reasons for concern include:

The lack of community consultation.

The lack of a democratic process

The lack of quality green space. We do not want just green washing.

The need to ensure this area is able to grow as a community with proper facilities. This proposal runs counter to that.

The need to ensure that there is green space for sporting and community recreational purposes. As it stands there is no adequate sporting infrastructure for the young people in this area in terms of providing key prevention activities like team sports etc.

There are multiple brown field sites around Bluebell, Inchicore, Ballyfermot, Ballymount. It appears to me that these would be far more suitable and easier transport links.

Between this site, back of Teresa gardens, Ballygibson, players there is just so much empty and wasted areas around Dublin 8.

Well done and thank you for waver park + (proposed) bridgefoot st park however this is the beginning of what was chronic under investment.

When you get out of the city a little to D6, D14 the dynamic just changes immediately. There are so much green areas. I know its a trade off between city living and suburbs but a super depot in city centre is certainly a waste of crucial space. As mentioned there are so many places this could go.

Thanks
